

Aeron: The Chair that Works with You

Crafted with intention and designed ergonomically, the Aeron chair by Herman Miller is not just an attractive addition to any office, it's a key business tool. Remastered, yet largely unchanged since 1994, the Aeron chair has been thoughtfully updated by original co-designer Don Chadwick, making the chair's already health-positive design even better.

When it comes to business, everyone likes advancement

Trading traditional foam and fabric for a breathable design, the Aeron's 8Z pellicle frame allows a free flow of air and provides eight zones of varying latitudinal support across the seat and back. Correspondingly, the PostureFit SL takes a stance on promoting healthy posture with adjustable pads that stabilize the lower back and lumbar region. A dynamic duo, the 8Z Pellicle and PostureFit SL provide unbeatable assistance and guarantee a secure yet flexible workday.

Pivotal performer and team player

The Aeron Chair understands office mechanics. Designed to assist in every project, the Aeron glides effortlessly from a forward-facing position to a full recline - without compromising a shred of comfort or balance. Constructed with technologically advanced resources, the Aeron Chair is as mindful of the exterior environment as it is of the interior environment.

Smart chair, smart choice

Committed to manufacturing products with zero waste, Herman Miller consistently works toward sustainability goals that are “Resource Smart, Eco-inspired, and Community Driven.” Don Chadwick and Bill Stumpf kept those goals in mind when designing the original Aeron, and the endeavor continued with the design of the new Aeron, which contains no foam, fabric or leather and is 91 percent recyclable. The new Aeron Chair also includes returnable packaging as well as instructions on how to prepare the chair for recycling.

A sizeable contribution to any office

Every project design requires strategic planning and plenty of options. Available in three different sizes, the Aeron Chair confidently delivers a comfortable place at the table for every size of job, as well as for every size of businessperson.

Colors suited for the workplace

Choose from three sophisticated tones that contribute subtly to any office space by creating a balanced environment. Graphite, the darkest option, resembles the original Aeron chair but tacks on a modern luster. Carbon, which blends well with a range of office environments, is suggested as a neutral option. Mineral, the lightest color, is a popular choice for open workspaces.

Onboarding with Aeron

With Aeron, you’re not just buying a chair, you’re joining a global team, and recruiting is Herman Miller’s specialty. Visit a showroom in more than 100 cities worldwide, contact a dealer or find an online retailer. Each member of the Aeron team is committed to Herman Miller’s standards of consistency, quality and efficiency.

Find an online retailer: <https://www.hermanmiller.com/where-to-buy/shop-online/>

Contact a dealer: <https://www.hermanmiller.com/where-to-buy/contact-a-dealer/>

Schedule an appointment at a showroom: https://www.hermanmiller.com/en_lac/where-to-buy/visit-a-showroom/